Not Your Typical Managed Service Provider

Businesses often view hiring an IT company as simply "outsourcing the management of networking gear", but the reality is much different. IT companies come in many shapes and sizes. Vission is special. Not only does Vission help with the setup and configuration of equipment, they can also take responsibility for monitoring and fine-tuning network performance and provide critical insight into efficient business management practices. With technology playing such a crucial role in business today, IT providers know more about how to grow and improve small companies than ever before. For years, many organizations have overlooked this fact – but not MY Capital.

Recognizing the extra advantage and potential value of outsourcing IT (rather than maintaining an in-house IT department), MY Capital selected Vission Technology to support all its IT needs including website, hardware, network, security, backup, email and productivity software.

IT Challenges in the Finance Industry

In the financial industry, information security is paramount. MY Capital is responsible for sensitive data from many customers and must comply with the industry's security regulations. MY Capital trusted Vission Technology to maintain and protect their customers' data, while still ensuring employees have the ability to easily access what they need and collaborate internally.

Recently, Vission Technology performed a complete migration for MY Capital from Google G Suite to Microsoft Office 365. The project was executed quickly and smoothly, and MY Capital are benefitting every day from the new Office 365 productivity tools. With a wealth of experience in cybersecurity and a dedication to BC small business, Vission Technology was a natural choice for the migration of this sensitive data.

"Vission Technology performed a smooth and supportive Office 365 migration at our company. They took the time to ensure all our staff had the access they needed and answered all our questions."
